Hello

Welcome to our first newsletter. We hope that you will join us and that you will find our information useful in keeping you up to date with YUDO's product range and as we continue to introduce additional products that may assist your business. YUDO OCEANIA PTY LTD, a subsidiary company of YUDO, is now 20 months young and proud of the support provided to our extensive list of customers throughout Australia & New Zealand. We are committed in providing high quality products with expertise, service and support to our region. We offer a large range of hot runners and ancillary equipment that will suit all applications including packaging, medical, industrial and automotive covering all resins from general purpose to engineering. Our high quality and competitive pricing will give you the edge to continue to compete. In recent years YUDO has invested heavily in Liquid Silicone Rubber (LSR) technology again meeting the demand of customer's need. An addition to the list of products we below offer.

Full Range Spare Parts

We are well stocked with a range of Single nozzles that come with a variety of gate options to suit your application. We carry an extensive range of spare parts, heaters, thermocouples, tips and connecting systems in either YUDO or DME standard. We also carry a full range of temperature controllers from 1 to 12 zones
